Present,

Daniel Brodhead, Sec. Gen. }
John Hall, Secretary, } of the Land office.
Francis Johnston, Reg. Gen. }

The petition of Thomas Stewardson on behalf of himself and the other trustees for the estate of Samuel Caldwell, surviving partner of James Meese, bearing date Philadelphia, 5th Month 17th 1799, stated as follows, viz. That a certain John Collins had in consequence of fraudulent deeds poll, obtained patents for two certain tracts of land, one situate in the county of Northumberland, surveyed to Samuel Caldwell in pursuance of a warrant dated in 1774; and the other situate now in Luzerne county, surveyed to said Caldwell by a warrant also dated in 1774—and requested that patents might be granted, for the said tracts, to William Crammond, Edward Tilghman, John Ashley, and Thomas Stewardson, trustees of the estate of Samuel Caldwell, surviving partner of James Meese, as the said two tracts were part of the estate of Meese and Caldwell.

Whereupon the Board having considered the same, ordered that at least sixty days notice be given in one of the Philadelphia newspapers, and in the Lancaster Journal to the said Collins or his assigns, to appear before the Board on the first Monday in October next, to shew cause if any he or they have, why patents should not issue for the said two tracts to the said trustees agreeably to the prayer of the said petition.

EXTRACTS

KIGNSTON, (Jam.) June 26.

Arrived,

Schr. Nancy, Kennedy, Philadelphia, last from Turks-island, 4 days.

Industry, Monk, Charleston 17

Brig Betsey, Edward, Philadelphia, 21

Ship Portsmouth, Milward, Savannah 24

Two foreign schooners for St. Domingo and the Main, sailed yesterday.

July 1.

An American sloop of war was in the offing all yesterday, and had up a signal for a pilot; she stood out to the southward in the evening.

There appears by the late American papers to have been 41 sail of vessels seized by the harbor master of the port of Charleston, for trading to the ports in St. Domingo, contrary to the law passed by Congress, forbidding all intercourse with any French ports.

July 2.

Yesterday arrived at Port Royal the United States sloop of war Montezuma, of 24 guns from a cruize—on entering Port Royal, she saluted the fort and flag, which was immediately returned.

Captain Richard Bunce of the brig Polly, of New-York, informs us, that he parted 6 days ago off Cape Maize, with the American armed ship General Greene, Christopher Raymond Perry, Esq. commander, who requested him to take this public method to inform those concerned, that he with six other armed ships will cruize for some considerable time from Cape Antonio to the Havanna for the protection of the American trade.

July 3.

It was yesterday reported, that the treaty between gen. Maitland and Touissaint, respecting the trade to St. Domingo, has been concluded and sent down here; we know of no arrival here that could have brought it—Rigaud in an address to his fellow citizens of the 2d June last, expresses his aversion to in in the strongest manner.

July 4.

Late accounts from St. Domingo state, that Touissaint has actually commenced hostilities against Rigaud, and has made himself master of Jacmel.

July 5.

We understand that the captain of the United States sloop of war Montezuma, gave an elegant dinner yesterday on board his ship, in honor of the day, July 4.

Yesterday a great number of American captains and others, dined together at Tatton's hotel, it being the anniversary of the independence of America.

Wednesday arrived the schr. Sally, Scherer, from Philadelphia, in 26 days.

Treachery of United Irishmen.

Before capt. Naylor left Gibraltar, a most wicked and treacherous plot was fortunately discovered a few days before it was to be put into execution. It appears that a part of the United Irishmen, that surrendered at Vinegar hill with the French Gen. Humbert, was sent to Gibralter to recruit the 18th regiment; those men have seduced a part of the troops stationed there, to join in their infamous design, had agreed to rise upon the rest of the troops, to murder them and their officers, and to deliver that important garrison to the enemy. The ring leaders were brought to a court martial, ten of whom were sentenced to be shot, eight of these however, were reprieved on the ground, and two suffered death.

We understand that William Savage, esq. of this town, Merchant, is appointed agent to the United States of America.

Every article of intelligence from the north of Germany, says a Paris paper, confirms the report that Paul I. is determined to harass the king of Prussia, and the states of the empire, who have abandoned Austria, and are on the amicable terms with France.

[Private accounts, via Hamburg, assure us that the Prussian monarch is completely prepared for any event, having formed a coalition with the neutral princes of Germany, whereby they have in complete readiness an army of 200,000 men to act as occasion may require—what led to this event was the march of the Russian troops into Germany.]

NEW-BEDFORD, July 24.

Extract of a letter from captain Knowles Adams of this town, late commander of the ship Mary-Ann, of 14 guns, and 25 men, belonging to New-York, to his friend in this town, dated Cadiz, May 22, 1799.

"I am sorry to be under the necessity of writing to you upon so different a subject from my last. On the 2d instant, sailed from Guernsey, bound to Malaga and Barcelona, with nothing to render our passage unhappy, until the 11th, arrived off Cadiz, thinking to have found the English blockading this port, but to my great surprise, found no English ships here—immediately began to apprehend danger, which at 12 on meridian was but too well founded; we descried from mast head seven French privateers, the wind dying away fast at the same time, 5 of them with the help of their oars, soon came up with us; on which an action commenced, which continued without ceasing one hour and forty-seven minutes; having in the course of this time one of my men killed, and seven wounded, which you must think had weakened my small number considerably, it being dead calm, and overpowered by numbers, I thought resistance no longer useful nor prudent, and struck my colors, with hopes of mercy, but to my sorrow, found little—true, my life was spread me, for which I am very thankful, and for which I am (under God) indebted to a Frenchman, who was far more humane than the rest—several attempts were made to dispatch me, which certainly would have been done had not this Frenchman interfered. So savage were they, beat our wounded in a most shocking manner; they knocked me down and beat me, while others were attempting to stab me—not a man escaped their barbarity. They took from us every thing except what we stood in, even our hats from our heads.

"Our ship is a most shocking sight to behold, cut all to pieces; my poor countrymen are more or less sharing the same fate every day; a ship from Baltimore, bound to Leghorn, was brought into Algeziras the same day after me, mounting 20 six pounders, and 25 men, the captain dangerously wounded; he fought them an hour and a half.

"They would not allow us to go on shore for forty eight hours after getting into port, nor permit any one to speak us from the shore, not even our consul, nor allow us to bury our dead: keeping Mr. Mumford (my merchant) and myself in close confinement, no cloaths to wear, nor any thing to lie on but the ballast in the hold.

"The privateers are now much larger than when I was out in the Commerce; those that captured me, three out of the five, mounted six twelve and two eighteens, 90 men each—none less than 50—made up of all nations, I am sorry to say many Americans.

"We were captured on the 11th, carried into port the 12th, the 5 passed our declaration; our papers sealed up and sent to Cadiz. On the 19th, Mr. Mumford and myself arrived safe at Cadiz, each in perfect health: where we now are waiting our condemnation, which we expect will take place soon.

"My conduct through the whole of this disagreeable business seems to have met the approbation of every American, together with that of our consuls, who flatter me with its meeting the approbation of all whom it may concern. I have given the French consuls consuls here, a true representation of their barbarity, together with a list of every thing they robbed me of, and have their promise that my wearing apparel shall be restored. I have not much hopes of recovering any of my property, for they are much enraged against me for contending with them so long. Many on their side were killed, as appears by their own account, and they always make their loss as favorable as possible. My return home is uncertain." Adieu.

ALEXANDRIA, July 27.

The schooner Cornelia, Capt. James Crowdhill, of this port, was unfortunately captured on the 17th of June, about 65 miles to the Eastward of Surinam River by a French privateer sloop, called, the La Imposture, commanded by citizen Baptist Malvin, belonging to Cayenne. The citizens of the United States must have lost by his captures, on the lowest calculation, the sum of 80,000 dollars. The privateer is American built, and has not the smallest appearance of being armed. She however, carries six 6 pounders and one long French 18 pounder, which carries an English 24lb shot and runs on a slide. It can be used on either side, or as a stern or bow chase. Her bottom is white, sides yellow, and upper works black and yellow, But does not appear to have been painted for the last 12 months; barricadoes very low and weak, so that any armed vessel laying her close aboard would be almost sure of conquest, She frequently lays at anchor on the coast with a number of prizes round her, so that the American vessels may mistake her for a Dutch or Dane. It is hoped that this description may be of service to commanders of vessels in that trade.

Malvin had determined to fit out the brig George as a privateer, to mount 14 guns; and if the Cornelia sailed to his liking she was also to be fitted out. He is a man of considerable property, and so well acquainted with the coasts, & that he is enabled to do considerable injury to our commere. The French keep 2 corvettes, of 20 guns each, with a considerable number of men; but capt. Crowdhill is of opinion, that a very small American force would keep the coast clear of privateers. No dependence is to be placed on the Dutch, as almost all their vessels of war have been sent home.

The day after capt. Crowdhill was captured, Malvil made him and Mr. Nicolls, who was supercargo of the brig George a present of the schooner John, including, also her officers and seamen; but previous to this she had been plundered of every thing that was valuable. Capt. Crowdhill being short of water, carried the schooner into Surinam, where she was claimed by the capt. and supercargo, and accordingly given up. In return for his carrying the vessel into that place, he was given two barrels of beef and one of flour, with some glasses to use on his passage home.

Capt. Crowdhill feels himself bound in duty to return his thanks to capt. Sandford and Mr. John Moore, for their humanity and friendly attention on his arrival at Surinam. Capt. Henderson of the London Packet, of Baltimore, with true American philanthropy, offered capt. Crowdhill any assistance he might stand in need of, supposing that he had been plundered; but Malvin had taken nothing but his papers, and amongst them his certificate of naturalization.

Mr. Richard Nicols, who was taken in the brig George, intended to sail in the brig Favorite for Baltimore, unless prevented by the watchfulness of the corvette which lay at Surinam and the commander of whom had determined to capture all American vessels he could fall in with.

RICHMOND, July 20.

Clayborne [of this state] and Clopton, (both belonging to the band) had occasion, during the last session of Congress, to address their constituents by letter. The abilities of either singly, being inadequate (as it would seem) to the task, they club'd talents, and produced one, which answered the purpose. Claiborne sent his to the people of Brunswick and other counties in that district; and Clopton forwarded his to those of New-Kent, Henrico, &c. while each flattered himself, no doubt, that the distance would prevent a discovery A citizen of this place, was reading one of them some time afterwards to a few acquaintances, as a letter from Mr. Clopton, which he premised he had procured accidentally, and intended to preserve as a curiosity. A gentleman of Mecklenburg happened to be present, and after hearing the letter read, observed that it came from Mr. Claiborne,—not from Mr. Clopton; for that the former was his Representative, and had transmitted him one of the same kind. Hereupon he was shewn the signature of Clopton, but having good grounds for his assertion, he put his hand into his pocket, and drew out Claiborne.

The two letters were then compared, and proved in every respect verbatim, except the signature. Yet did many of our fellow citizens, honest and respectable citizens too, with a knowledge of this circumstance, give their suffrages at the last election, in favour of these co-partners in composition, in preference to General Marshal and Mr Goode, whose talents and integrity are acknowledged throughout the state.

EXECUTIVE DIRECTORY.

6 Prairial, May 25.

General Scherer to the Executive Directory.

CITIZENS DIRECTORS,

The minister of war has made known to me the choice which you have made in my person of inspector general of the French troops stationed in Holland. I thank you, Citizens Directors, for this new mark of confidence with which you have been pleased to honor me; but I pray your permission to decline its acceptance. I am outrageously calumniated both as a minister and a general. I owe to my country, to your choice, to my honor and reputation, thus attacked, a complete justification against the heavy charges accumulated on my head. In a few days, a public account of my administration, during the five first months of the 7th year, shall be laid before you. It shall be corroborated by all justificatory documents necessary to authenticate and confirm its veracity.

Health and fraternity,

(Signed) SCHERER.

PARIS, 27 Floreal, May 16.

Eymar, the Ex-civil Commissioner at Turin, has written from Chambery on the 8th instant, to the following effect:—We were obliged to re-pass Mount Cenis, with the French constituted authorities, the Legislative Body and Directory of the Cisalpine Republic. One of the Cisalpine Directors, and several of the Deputies, dined with me on cheese and eggs, upon the summit of the Alps; and I treated them in the name of the Executive Directory of the French Republic. We drank to the invincible courage and the sure triumph of the friends of liberty.

The Ambassador Rivaud arrived here yesterday with two Cisalpine Directors; two more of them are expected, and the fifth has gone over to the enemy.

A numerous convoy from Bourdeaux has entered the river Loire. It fortunately escaped the pursuit of a large frigate and four privateers belonging to the English. They write from Nantes, that another convoy bound for Bourdeax has not been so fortunate; and they mention the loss of five or six of their vessels taken by the English privateers.

28 Floreal, May 17.

All the persons of whom the Cisalpine Directory, as well as several other constituted authorities of that republic were composed, arrived at Grenoble on the 8th. A guard of honor was appointed to attend them during their residence there.

The sitting of the Council of War appointed to try General Championet, has, in consequence of the demand of his official defender, Citizen Blaqué, been fixed at Briancon.

On the 12th instant, Citizen Lezean, Chief Agent of the Helvetic Republic, shot himself with a pistol charged with two balls. The balls have been extracted from his head and he has been carried to the hospital de l'Unite.

The Baron de Stael, the Swedish minister here, has obtained liberty from his court to return to Sweden.

The Prussian minister at Hamburgh left that city on the 1st inst. in consequence of the hostile dispositions of Paul I.

The second Russian army entered the Hungarian territory on the 25th April.

The mail from Lyons to Paris which arrived yesterday, was attacked near Tarare, and the dispatches carried off by a band of 25 robbers.

TURIN, May 4.

For these five days a vast number of citizens are crowding into this Commune from Milan and other parts of Italy, while great numbers are leaving this place for France. The head-quarters have been here since the 2d, and on their arrival Citizen Musset terminated his official business, and shut up his offices. Every article and effect of the most valuable kind here, as well as at Milan, has been sent to France. The mails, carriages, and waggons employed on the occasion have been innumerable. It was reported the night before the last, that the French were about to evacuate this city, and that the banditti intended to plunder us. All the inhabitants put lights in their balconies and in their windows, and during the night and the next day strong patroles kept order in the streets. Yesterday and to-day the shops were shut up. Several corps are on their march to Pignerol, which is the general rendezvous, and where the Cisalpines and a body of our troops are stationed. Yesterday morning about 40 individuals, mostly Ex-Nobles, were arrested, in order to be sent out of the country, and the ci-devant Prince de Carignan was this day sent to France. Some Members of our Municipality have fled, and are already re-placed.

May 6.

General Moreau, after having caused the administrations that were unfit for the active service of the war, and the different depots, to be removed back towards France, collected all the troops that were in Piedmont, united them to the army which he commands, and is marching to meet the army of Naples.

The head-quarters of the French continues this day and to-morrow at Tortona. General Grouchy, who commanded the division of Piedmont, is at the head of the Cavalry belonging to the army.

LUCERN, May 9.

We learn that after an obstinate action fought with the insurgents, 3000 of them were left on the field of battle, and the remainder of their army, to the number of 2000 men, made their escape into Italy by St Gothard.

BASLE, May 9.

The attack of the Auſtrians on the Griſons were favoured by the deſertion of about 25 men belonging to the 48th demi-brigade. They went over to the enemy the day before, and led them on the attack.

LAUSANNE, May 10.

Yeſterday evening the gallant General Delmas arrived here from Italy: he is wounded, and can hardly walk. All the news from the Vallais ſtates, that the inſurgents have been defeated in every point, and that the country is reſtored to tranquility.

AUGSBOURG, May 9.

According to the laſt letters from Padua, the French having received conſiderable reinforcements from the armies of Rome and Naples, are making a ſerious diverſion on the Lower Po, and threaten not only the corps of General Klenau, in the environs of Ferrara, but alſo that which forms the blockade of Mantua. Some Auſtrian and Ruſſian troops have in conſequence of it, been diſpatched to reinforce thoſe bodies, and to cover the rear of the Imperial army.

The Gazettes of Genoa and Piedmont ſtate, that ſince the 30th of March, General Macdonald, at the head of 30,000 men, was proceeding by forced marches to the Po, after having left French garriſons in Naples, Capua, and Rome, which were, in conjunction with the National Guards of Republics, to defend the South, while Generals Moreau and Macdonald were to attack with their united forces, the Allied Army in the North of Italy.

GRENOBLE, May 13.

The crowds of refugees from the Ciſalpine Republic and Piedmont, flying into the Southern departments of France are ſo great, that they cannot find a ſufficient number of guides and mules to paſs Mount Cenis. The mule drivers are paid as high as fifty louis for a carriage. We ſhould not be ſurpriſed at this emigration, nor entertain any ſerious apprehenſions on account of it. A general permiſſion for that purpoſe has been granted by General Moreau, and it is to be preſumed, that the advantages reſulting from ſending away conſiderable number of uſeleſs mouths from a country which affords few proviſions, muſt be very great to the army.

LONDON, June 1.

Weekly Retroſpect of Politics. From the General Evening-Poſt.

Uninterrupted ſucceſs continues to reward the bravery of our imperial allies on the continent. Since the commencement of their combined operations, they have never had occaſion to abandon any enterpriſe that they had undertaken or meditated, nor have they once experienced a failure in any attempt. With unexampled perſeverance, and patience under fatigue, the imperial armies have every where followed up the advantages they have acquired; and have preſſed ſo cloſely on the enemy as to give him neither time to rally, nor opportunity to manœuvre with a view to reinforcements. Indeed, the ground that has been regained from the French in ſo ſhort a ſpace of time is, we believe, unexampled in the hiſtory of any nation.

About the middle of April, the French under general Macdonald began their retreat from the Brindiſi county in the kingdom of Naples, in conſequence of orders brought to them overland; about ten days afterwards an Engliſh force, under the command of captain Hood, of the Zealous, landed and took Salerno, a ſea port twenty-ſeven miles from Naples; and the Engliſh continuing to march forward, the enemy wholly evacuated that kingdom on the 25th, with ſuch precipitation as to leave behind them both their magazines and their booty. We know that inſurrections are almoſt general in the eccleſiaſtical ſtates, through which the French muſt paſs; their march will therefore be attended with infinite obſtacles. The people of Tuſcany have ſent a deputation to the allies, inviting them to reſcue from the French exactions; and we underſtand, that an army has been ſent to Genoa, with a view to the cutting Macdonald's retreat from Lower Italy. Pizzightone ſurrendered to general Keim on the 19th May, and Suwarow has advanced upon Piedmont, and taken Tortona, one of the ſtrong chain of fortreſſes that the French probably look to as the barrier to protect France itſelf. The Ruſſian general, however, who affords no breathingtime to the fugitive republicans, has marched againſt Turin, where the utmoſt conſternation and diſmay univerſally prevail, as well among the ſoldiery as among the people.

Lord Bridport has ſent an expreſs to lord Cornwallis, to inform him of his being on the weſtern coaſt of Ireland, and of his having ſtationed his frigates of obſervation to the north weſt of Urris Head, to prevent the enemy from landing in any quarter without previouſly riſking an engagement.

Letters from Waterford mention that a large enemy's ſhip has been deſcried off Dungarvon and that ſky rockets had been ſeen in the air which were ſuppoſed to be ſignals made from the coaſt for the enemy. All the troops were immediately put under arms and remained ſo during the whole night.

Letters from admiral Dickſon's fleet, dated the 8th inſt. ſtate that it then continued to cruize off the Texel; and that it had on the preceding day, been re-inforced to ten ſail of the line and ſeveral frigates.

The Director of 64 guns, capt. Bligh, reconnoitred the enemy's force in the harbor which ſhe aſcertained to conſiſt of ten ſail of the line and ſome ſmaller ſhips, the whole of which appeared ready for ſea.

Two Spaniſh ſhips of the line and frigates, that had arrived at South America from Cadiz, are ſaid to have captured five Engliſh ſhips, richly laden.

Yeſterday, ſeveral of thoſe deluded wretches, who were ſeduced by United Iriſhmen to become malcontents in this country, in which they might have enjoyed happineſs and tranquility, were ſhipped for Pruſſia, where they will be kept tranquil in the army of that country, with abſtinence from whiſkey, and ſmart flagellation if neceſſary.

Several have been ſhipped in a ſimilar manner from different quarters of the country. Thoſe that ſhew any incorrigibility in Pruſſia, are to be ſent to the mines, from whence they can never return.

BELFAST, June 7.

The French fleet, of 19 ſail of the line, with the ſix from Carthagena, and the ill-conditioned Venetian ſhips they might find at Toulon, could not in all exceed 30. We have eight at Palermo, 2 at Minorca, one that may be ſpared from the blockade of Malta, one which commodore Troubridge ſent back from Alexandria. Lord St. Vincent can detach eight of his ſquadron, as ſoon as he is joined by the five under admiral Whitſhed, in all twenty. Beſides we have four Portugueſe ſhips, two Neapolitans and three or four Ruſſians, which will altogether make us equal in number to the French and Spaniards.

NEW-YORK, Auguſt 1.

In our paper of Monday laſt, we publiſhed a few particulars of the unhappy fate of a part of the crew of the ſchooner Nautilus, from this port to Curracoa. We have ſince ſeen capt. Fuller, the bearer of the information, who ſays that he ſaw the men ſpared by the murderous privateersmen, and was informed by them, that after an engagement of an hour and an half, capt. Dixon was boarded, and, for his manly reſiſtance, they firſt inhumanly run capt. Dixon through the body, and though not dead, plunged him into the deep! after which they ſtabbed the firſt and ſecond mates, and two ſeamen, threw them down into the forecaſtle, and ſhut it up, where they were left to periſh by loſs of blood, heat and ſuffocation. He adds, that captain Dixon, finding their bloody intentions, pathetically entreated them to ſpare his life, as he had a family in New-York, whoſe ſubſistance depended on his induſtry. It was, however, uſeleſs to urge arguments to the ſanguinary monſters—they replied, he ſhould die for the reſiſtance he had made, and immediately commenced the horrid maſſacre.

Who that is not dead to ordinary feelings of human nature, can avoid execrating acts ſo atrocious?—Aſtoniſhing as it may ſeem, we ſhall not be ſurpriſed to obſerve it JUSTIFIED by the ſcriblers of the Aurora, Argus, &c. If their hardihood does not riſe to this, they will probably deny it, and adduce the erroneous account reſpecting captain Kemp in evidence; to ſupport their ſcepticiſm; but poſſeſſing the evidence we do—the reſpectable teſtimony of capt. Fuller—we cannot heſitate to avow our implicit belief of the fact. [N. Y. Gaz.

By the arrival of the ſchr. Kitty, capt. Williams, on Thurſday, 6 days from Bermuda, we have been favoured with papers to the 3d inſt.—we here ſubjoin the only paragarphs worthy notice.

Bermuda, July 13.

The Lynx ſloop of war, captain Hall, which ſailed for Halifax laſt Saturday, immediately gave chace to the American ſhip Pegaſus, Concklin, from Cadiz and New-York, bound to Vera Cruz, with brandy, oil dry goods, &c. which ſhe brought in the next day as prize. The Lynx ſailed again for Halifax on Tueſday evening, after ſeeing the prize in ſafe. The Pegaſus is well armed.

Yeſterday arrived the privateer ſhip Lord Hawkeſbury, captain Naſh, from a cruiſe with a Spaniſh brig from La Guira for Corunna, laden with Cocoa, &c. &c. A Spaniſh Biſhop and five prieſts were paſſengers on board.

Laſt week the privateer Experiment capt. H. Frith, came in with a rich Spaniſh prize from Cadiz, bound for Vera Cruz, laden with quick ſilver, dry goods, &c. &c. which ſhe fell in with to the ſouthward after a cruiſe of a few days.

CHARLESTON, July 27.

To the Merchants, Maſter veſſels, and pilots Charleſton.

The ſeperintendant of the Light-Houſe eſtabliſhment at Charleſton deems it neceſſary to notify the Merchants, Maſters, of veſſels and the pilots, that laſt night the Lanthorn and wood work of the inſide of the Light-Houſe as by accident unfortunately qurnt; the walls of the building however ſtanding, will in the day, ſtill be a leading mark to the Pilots and Maſters of veſſels. In conſequence of this there can be no light ſhewn immediately, but the ſuperintendant will loſe no time in endeavouring to have a temporary light fixed on the top of the old walls, with all poſſible diſpatch, and meaſures no doubt will be ſpeedily taken by the United States, to have it rebuilt, and a good light eſtabliſhed again.

Daniel Stevens Superintendant.

Charleſton, July 22, 1799.

On Thurſday laſt was urgued before Judge Bee, the federal diſtrict Judge for the diſtrict of South-Carolina, a motion, made by Mr. Ward, on a Habeas Corpus, to brig up the body of NATHAN ROBINS, in order that he might be delivered up to the Britiſh conſul, by virtue of a requiſition made under the 27th article of the treaty of amity and commerce with Great-Britaid.

Mr. Moultrie and Mr. Ker oppoſed the motion, on ſeveral grounds, but particularly on that of the priſoner being an American citizen, and therefor entitled by the conſtitution of the United States, to a trial by a jury of his peers; and alſo that the crime with which he was charged, (that of being concerned in the mutiny on boasd the Hermione Britiſh frigate) was committed on the high ſeas, within the juriſdiction and cognizance of the United States.

Yeſterday his honor the judge pronounced his decree, for delivering up the priſoner to the Britiſh conſul, in the courſe of which he obſerved, that it was immaterial, whether the perſon was an American citizen, or not; he was equally within the purview of the treaty, and therefore the court was bound to deliver him up, the treaty being the law of the land.

The United States frigate, United States, Commodore Barry, and George Waſhington, Capt. Fletcher, were off the bar yeſterday, with Pilots on board. The United States brought 50 Artilleriſts to garriſon Fort Moultrie on Sullivan's Iſland, they were landed from one of the pilot boats there yeſterday.

JACOBIN DILEMMA.

THE report of the King of Spain's political converſion, through the mediation of General Suwarow, is faſt gaining ground among the leſſer fry of the Democrats; with whom the queſtion now is—"If Don Thomaſo the Chief Juſtice ſhould turn about along with his diplomatic ſon in law, the King of Spain, whom ſhall we vote for at the next election for our Chief Magiſtrate? Iſrael! Coxe! Dallas! Blair M'Clenaghan! or Lloyd of Newgate?"!!!

By letters from Liſbon, to the 1ſt of June, we learn that all the artifices employed by the Directory, to impreſs a belief of the criminality of the Houſe of Auſtria, in the execution of the two Sanſculottes, on the 28th April, had entirely failed. The people of France, and particularly thoſe of Paris, openly charged the act upon the Directory.

Other accounts from Hiſpaniola ſtate, that Rigaud occupied Gonaives and Petit Trou. At the latter place, all the Whites are ſaid to have been maſſacred.

Touſſaint's party, (the Negroes) are denominated "Ariſtocrats;" that of Rigaud, (the mulattoes) "Republicans." The latter have exerciſed the moſt unheard of cruelties upon ſuch of their enemies as have fallen into their hands.

JOURNALS OF CONGRESS,

FROM THE COMMENCEMENT

Of the American War, in 1774, to the present time,

INCLUDING

The Reports of Heads of Departments, of Committees, and other Official and Private Papers of that Body, now first permitted to be made public.

TERMS.

THE work will be printed on a fine paper, and a new neat type, in large octavo.

Each volume will contain above 500 pages, neatly bound and lettered.

Uniformity in size, paper, and binding, will be observed throughout the work; so that, while the subscribers become possessed of a valuable record, an ornament may be added to their libraries.

The price to subscribers will be 2 dolls. 75 cts. per volume, in boards, and 3 dolls. whole bound, but, as the publisher does not intend to print manmore than the number subscribed for, a considerable rise on the price may be expected to non-subscribers.

Each volume will contain about one third less of letter-press than the original edition; but, as the publisher is not yet enabled to determine the extent of the Private Journals, which he may be allowed to make public, he cannot ascertain the number of volumes which will comprise the work.

☞ Payments to be made on delivery of each volume.

Subscribers will have it at their option, either to subscribe for the whole of the Journals, up to the present time, or to those only of the Old Congress prior to the organization of the Federal Government.

IN all countries, the proceedings in the commencement of their governments, are lost in darkness and obscurity, owing to a carelessness, in the succeeding generation, to preserve the public records, and the attention of the nation, in those rude ages, being called off from their domestic concerns, to engage in wars and conquest. Of what infinite value would the laws of Alfred be, had they been transmitted to our days? Time, that destroys every thing, enhances the value of well authenticated public records, and renders them almost inestimable. It is hoped, that Americans will, therefore, chearfully contribute their assistance in transmitting to posterity the labours of their ancestors—founders of the Columbian nation.

 The work will certainly be advanced with expedition and promptitude. The following will show the support it has already acquired:

"Philadelphia, June 15, 1798.

"To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States.

"The MEMORIAL of the Subscribers, Citizens, &c. of Philadelphia,

"Respectfully sheweth,

"That having, in our respective avocations, frequent occasions to recur to the Journals of Congress, we experience inconvenience by the scarcity of them: That we understand that Richard Folwell, printer, of Philadelphia, has had it in contemplation to print that public record; and that he hath obtained partial countenance from many individuals; but that he has delayed prosecuting the work, in expectation of encouragement from government, that may adequately indemnify him. We, therefore, respectfully solicit, as the publication is necessary to be disseminated among public bodies, that Congress will, in their wisdom, render him such additional encouragement, to that which he has obtained from private individuals, as to enable him to proceed with the work, so that your Memorialists may be enabled to purchase copies of that record for themselves.

The Swift-Sure,

A NEW LINE OF STAGES,

NOW RUNNING BETWEEN

PHILADELPHIA & NEW-YORK,

By the short and pleasant road of Bustleton, Newtown, Scotch Plains, Springfield and Newark.

THE excellence of this road, the populousness of the country through which it passes, with sundry other advantages, which render it so far preferable to the Old Road through Bristol, Brunswick, &c. long ago suggested the propriety of its becoming the Grand Thorough-Fare from Philadelphia to New York. During the present year, a minute survey of it has been taken, and its superiority over the Old Road, both in winter and summer, has been clearly ascertained.—There are good bridges over all the other waters but the Delaware, and here the crossing is performed with great safety and in less than half the time required at the Trenton Ferry. The road is several miles shorter than the old road, but this is amongst the least of its advantages, because daily experience proves to us, that dispatch as well as comfort in travelling principally depend on the goodness of the road and the levelness of the country, and, in these respects, the New Road is, beyond all comparison, the best. It presents none of those rocky hills, which render the Old Road so fatiguing between the Delaware and Newark. The soil, too, for the greater part, is such as to produce but little mud in winter, and very little dust in summer, which circumstance, added to the beauty of the country, and a considerable proportion of shade, must always render travelling in the latter season peculiarly agreeable.

The Swift Sure starts from PHILADELPHIA, at 6 o'clock every morning (Sundays excepted) from the GREEN TREE, opposite the Lutheran Church, North Fourth Street. It goes through Frankford to Bustleton, where it stops to Breakfast; from Bustletown it goes through Newtown to Penny-town to dinner; from Penny-town through Hopewell, Millstone, Bound-brook, Quibbletown and Plainfield to Scotch Plains to lodge. The next morning it stops at Springfield to breakfast, from whence it goes through Newark and arrives at New-York at noon.

From NEW-YORK it starts at 3 o'clock in the afternoon (from Paulus Hook) and arrives at Philadelphia the next evening. For seats at New-York, application may be made to Edward Bardin, Old Coffee house, to A. Mathieu, corner of Nassau and John streets, to B. Many, no. 48, Courtlandt, corner of Greenwich street, and to Michael Little, at his hotel, no. 42, Broad street.

Fare for passengers, Five Dollars.
Way passengers 6 Cents per Mile.

Each passenger is allowed to take on 14lbs. of baggage carriage free; but all other baggage, taken on by a passenger, will be charged at 4 cents per pound weight.

With respect to packages sent on without passengers, the proprietors presume they have adopted a regulation, which, though unknown to other lines of stages, they think must meet with general approbation, They pledge themselves to make good every package on the following conditions. The person who delivers the package at the office shall see it entered in the stage-book, for which entry he shall pay 6 cents; he will then state the value of the package, and pay (exclusive of the carriage) one per cent. on the value, as insurance, and for which he will receive a receipt. Thus, for instance, if he estimates his package at one dollar, he will pay one cent, and if at one hundred dollars, he will pay one dollar insurance, and in like proportion for packages of any other value.

Very few persons it is presumed, will dislike this regulation; it will however, be optionable with every one to avail himself of this security or not. But the proprietors think it right to state very explicitly, that they will be responsible for the safe delivery of no package, which is not regularly entered, and for which an insurance receipt cannot be produced.

In the distribution of the route, the greatest care has been taken to fix on such places and taverns as always afford a good accommodation and entertainment for the passengers at the most reasonable rates The stages are well equipped furnished with fleet and steady horses, and committed to the care of intelligent sober and obliging drivers. The proprietors themselves live at the different towns and villages where the stages will stop, so that the conduct of the persons they employ is continually an object of their attention.—They take care also to see that the passengers are well provided for and politely treated at the taverns, and that no sort of chicanery or insolence is practised upon them; in short, they have spared neither pains nor expence to render the SWIFT-SURE the very best line of stages in America.

The line has now run nearly a month, during which time a great number of gentlemen have gone through, both from Philadelphia and New-York. Every passenger has found the road to surpass very far all that has been said of its excellence; and the Proprietors of the Swift Sure are extremely happy to hear the behaviour of their drivers, and the treatment at Taverns spoken of with the highest satisfaction.

HAS JUST PUBLISHED (PRICE 1 DOL. 50 CENTS)

THE

By WILLIAM GIFFORD, ESQUIRE.

To which is prefixed,

A POETICAL EPISTLE TO THE AUTHOR

By an American Gentleman.

[In introducing this celebrated work to the Gentlemen and Ladies of America, I have endeavored to give it a dress proportioned to its distinguished merit, and to the taste of those for whose amusement and delight it is intended. No expence has been spared in the publication; and I flatter myself that the work does not yield, either in paper or print, to any one ever published in America.—This edition has an advantage over some former ones, as it contains by way of notes, the minor productions of the author; and, it has an advantage over every other edition, in the Poetical Epistle, which is prefixed to it, and which must be extremely gratifying to every lover of literature in this country, as it is a proof that there are Americans who have the taste to admire, the justice to applaud, and the talents to rival the Geniuses of other nations.

☞ Some Copies have been sent on to Mr. Somerville, Maiden Lane, New York, also to Mr. Hill, Baltimore, and to Mr. Young, Charleston.

Copies will be sent to Boston and other places, as soon as occasions offer.]
